GEN. MILES TO THE JOURNAL THE ON USES OF AUTOMOBILES.

The Commanding Officer of the Army Thinks the Machine Will Be Useful Funeral of the Dead Manin War in Many Respects-Charron Accepts Conditions for the Race with Winton, but Wants $16,000 Added to the $4,000 Already Put Up.

reply last night:

Washington, June 18.—To the Editor of the Journal: The feature of the automobile, with reference to its use in military operations, has had the attention of many of the brightest business men interested in transportation, and of the most intelligent inventors, who have looked into that special phase of the subject. With this object and the general purpose of progress mies' artillery.
